EMPLOYEES and INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR INSTRUCTORS

Who is an Employee? Generally, an employee is a staff member who is hired by you and / or your business (the employer) to work for and perform duties on behalf of the employer in exchange for payment of a regular wage or salary, or any other type of compensation or reciprocal services to which value can be established, such as lodging, board, meals, horse board, training, or instruction. Employees usually work a regular schedule that is set by the employer. Employees are usually closely directed and controlled in their work, and they use the employer's equipment to perform their duties.

Who is an Independent Contractor [I.C.]? Generally, an independent contractor or contract laborer is an individual who makes an independent business of providing a certain service to one or more customers. The I.C. usually charges and bills by the job, setting their own rates and doing their own billing and collections. Unlike employees, independent contractors are not subject to close direction and control regarding details of the work, except to satisfactorily perform the task as agreed upon between the I.C. and their customers. The I.C. usually provides his / her own tools and equipment for the services performed. When I.C. Riding Instructors or Trainers contract with a premises owner to operate their services at the property, the I.C. usually compensates the owner by paying to them a commission on services performed there and / or a facilities use fee, and they are expected to follow premises use rules as set by the premises owner under a written contract arrangement.

WARNING: Each state has different criteria for determining who qualifies as an employee or an independent contractor (contract laborer). It is important to know the difference because you must comply with federal and state labor laws, including your state's Worker Compensation laws. Contact your state employment office, your accountant, and your legal counsel to assess how your state determines who is and is not an employee and what your legal obligations are with relation to your employees, volunteers, and independent contractors.

EMPLOYEE / STAFF / VOLUNTEER QUESTIONS and WORKER COMPENSATION COVERAGE EXCLUSION WARNING

WARNING: Injuries incurred by Employees, Contract Laborers, Exchange Laborers, and Volunteers are expressly not covered under the general liability policy for which you are applying, and the policy also does not provide Worker Compensation or Employer's Liability Insurance. Worker Compensation Insurance is the most effective way and usually the only way to cover staff bodily injury claims and it is usually required by the labor laws of each state.

INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR INSTRUCTORS, TRAINERS, AND EQUINE THERAPEUTIC SERVICES PROVIDERS

✓ Check This Box If You Have None to List

If riding instruction, training and / or therapeutic services exposures are declared in your application, you, the Named Insured will be covered for these activities. However, independent contractors providing these services at your facility will not be covered for their liability unless they carry their own liability insurance policy or unless they are named in your policy as an additional insured.

Independent Contractors [I.C.s] are best insured by carrying their own liability policy, especially if they provide their services at multiple locations. It is also best if they keep their liability insurance separate from yours. If your Independent Contractors [I.C.s] carry their own liability insurance policy, they should provide you and your insurer with proof of insurance in the form of a Certificate of Insurance or a copy of their policy. We can provide an insurance application kit for each of your I.C.s at your or their request.

If you choose to have them named and insured under your policy, they will be insured only for services they provide at your location or off premises on behalf of your horse business, but not at any other location. I.C.s who are riding instructors, trainers, or therapeutic services providers who hold degrees, certifications, and accreditation to perform these services, may want to have professional liability insurance in addition to general liability. If they take this insurance, it will protect them only when performing covered services at or on behalf of your horse business.

List below only the Independent Contractors who you want added to your policy as Additional Insured. If they do not carry their own liability policy, they must be insured under yours. They also must agree to follow the mandatory NAHA Risk Reduction Standards that apply to their services.

INSURANCE APPLICATION UNDERWRITING DEFINITIONS

"Care, Custody & Control Insurance": A type of liability insurance that protects you if a horse in your care, but not owned by you, becomes sick, injured or dies and the owner attempts to hold you legally responsible, or you become legally liable for the loss. Coverage includes cost of damages and legal defense. This coverage does not automatically cover the loss of horses that are in your care; you must be negligent and liable for the loss. The horse owners should be advised to carry their own mortality insurance to cover such losses because the owners have the financial interest in their horses.

"Driving Instruction" means a pre-arranged period of time (a lesson) in which a student has the intent to and works to learn and further their mental and physical skills relating to driving, handling and caring for "horses," whether from the ground or while sitting on a horse drawn vehicle, and while under the constant tutelage and supervision of a qualified driving instructor who receives compensation or a fee in exchange for providing the instruction service. Driving Instruction must be no less than 90% instructional and no more than 10% recreational.

"Horse" means all domesticated equine species and includes horses, ponies, mules and donkeys.

"Horse Boarding" means maintaining a "horse" owned by a third party in one's care, custody and control, by providing shelter and food for the animal in exchange for compensation or a fee.

"Horse Rental - Trail Rides, Guide and Outfitters" means the equestrian service of providing a "horse," horse tack and equipment, and possibly other sporting and camping gear, in addition to a paid leader (guide) and suitable number of wranglers and drag riders to novice participants in recreational trips and tours for the purpose of recreational horseback riding and / or for viewing of regional features and scenery, and possibly for hunting or fishing. While a few participants may be intermediate or expert riders, there is and must be the assumption by the operator that all participants will be novices and that the customer-use horses they provide must have the nature, temperament and training that makes them suitable and reasonably safe for novice use.

"Horse Training" means schooling a "horse" owned by a third party in exchange for compensation or a fee.

"Mounted Services" means providing community patrol services on horseback either as a volunteer or in exchange for compensation or a fee.

"Pony Ride" means rides being provided, whether for recreation or riding instruction, to children on ponies or to adults on horses within the constraints of a small enclosure by one of these means: 1. The rider sits on the pony or horse and the animal is hand-led and controlled by a staff member of the operator. 2. A rider sits on a horse or pony that is led at the end of a rigid metal arm or extension of a mechanical carrousel, merry-go-around or sweep device that turns on center. WHAT A "PONY RIDE" IS NOT: Allowing children or adults to ride while holding the reins with them being the person responsible for the control of the pony or horse is not a "Pony Ride." Allowing any person to ride a pony or horse while being led or "ponied" by a handler from the back of another horse is not a "Pony Ride." Allowing people to ride on or to drive a pony-drawn vehicle is not a "Pony Ride."

"Rider" means any person mounted on a "horse" or who otherwise comes near a "horse" from the ground after riding it or in preparation to ride it.

"Rodeo" means contests, competitions, exhibition events, and activities of cowboy or livestock and animal handling and controlling skills wherein participants do or attempt to ride, rope, wrestle, race, tie, chase, control, contain, and / or wrest an object from, an untrained animal or an animal trained to perform in such events and activities.

"Riding instruction" means an equestrian service that is a pre-arranged period of time (a lesson) in which a student has the intent to, and works to, learn and further their mental and physical skills and proficiency levels involved in riding, handling and caring for "horses," whether from the ground or mounted on a "horse," and while under the constant tutelage and supervision of a qualified riding instructor who receives compensation or a fee in exchange for providing the instruction service. Riding Instruction must be no less than 90% instructional and no more than 10% recreational.

"Search and rescue" means the act or means of providing the community service of looking for missing persons, items, or animals, while mounted on a "horse" either as a volunteer or for compensation or a fee.

"School Horse" means a "horse" provided to a student for the short-term purpose of taking instruction and to practice what is being learned.

"Unguided trail ride" means a "horse rental, trail ride" or "Guides and Outfitters" equestrian service, which was not constantly accompanied by and supervised by the appropriate number of qualified, employed trail guides and drag riders (trail guide crew).
